

THE LOB SHOT

To hit a high lob shot you should place the ball far forward in your stance. Then open the clubface, which aims the face of the club towards the sky. Aim your body slightly left of the target (opposite for lefty golfers). Make sure you use a full swing and make contact with the ground behind the ball before completing a full follow-through. It is important to use a club on this shot that has very little bounce.

